The one point above others that has enlisted many to support this road is the tunnel scheme in connection. The road will enter the city through a brick lined tunnel a quarter of a mile long, which will go under some of the principal streets of this city. Railroads only build tunnels to enter cities where estate is valuable and they put money in tunnels only in such towns as have a future. For instance, the New York Central and the New Haven & Hartford enter New York city through a tunnel under Central park, the Pennsylvania railroad runs under Baltimore the entire distance of the corporation; St Louis is entered by a tunnel.
